Dear Sir/Madam,

Amended accounts for Atoure Ltd – registered number 15129711

I am writing on behalf of Atoure Ltd, as its sole director, to enclose two sets of amended accounts, each replacing a set of accounts already filed for the company:

- Amended accounts for the period ended 30 September 2024, replacing the accounts filed on 25 July 2025
- Amended accounts for the period ended 30 September 2025, replacing the accounts filed on 20 June 2026

Both original filings were prepared and submitted on my behalf using figures that do not reflect the company's actual financial position. On review against the company's bank records, I found that the accounts filed on 25 July 2025 showed total net assets of £200 with no traceable basis in any bank statement, invoice, or other company record, and the accounts filed on 20 June 2026 were prepared on the wrong accounting basis (full FRS 101 rather than the micro-entity provisions the company is entitled to use) and included figures – including £3,000 of trade debtors and £400 of office equipment – that do not correspond to anything in the company's bank records or trading activity.

I have since prepared new accounts for both periods directly from the company's bank statements (Santander, Revolut Business, and Revolut Personal), reconciled to a single balance sheet across both periods. Both enclosed amended accounts are marked "AMENDED", state which filing they replace, and are prepared as they stood at the date of the original accounts, in accordance with your guidance on correcting filed accounts. Both are prepared in accordance with the micro-entity provisions of the Companies Act 2006, which the company is entitled to use, and for which the company was entitled to exemption from audit under section 477.

I would be grateful if these amended accounts could replace the originals on the public record. Please let me know if any further information or a specific form is required to complete this correction.

Yours faithfully,

Abdul-Malik Baba Toure

Director, Atoure Ltd
